BRIEF ALTERNATE STATEMENT OF RESEARCH BACKGROUND AND INTERESTS:

William Braud earned his Ph.D. in experimental psychology at the University of Iowa in 1967. At the University of Houston (TX), he taught and conducted research in learning, memory, motivation, psychophysiology, and the biochemistry of memory. At the Mind Science Foundation (San Antonio, TX), he directed research in parapsychology; health and well-being influences of relaxation, imagery, positive emotions, and intention; and psychoneuroimmunology. For the past 17 years, Dr. Braud was Professor,

Research Director, and Dissertation Director in the Residential and Global Ph.D. Programs of the Institute of Transpersonal Psychology (Palo Alto, CA), where he is now Professor Emeritus. At ITP, Professor Braud taught research-related graduate psychology courses, supervised dissertations, and conducted quantitative and qualitative research studies in areas of exceptional human experiences (mystical, intuitive, peak, transformative) and their interpretations, meanings, and life impacts; personal and spiritual change and transformation; alternative ways of knowing; the development and promotion of more inclusive and integrated inquiry approaches for transpersonal studies and science in general; and examining some underlying assumptions of science, psychology, transpersonal psychology, and certain spiritual and wisdom traditions. He has published nearly 300 professional articles and book chapters and serves on Editorial Boards of several professional journals. His website is: <http://inclusivepsychology.com>
